

IFDM 2020

Deadline of the call for abstracts: Monday April 20th !

This is a last chance to submit your abstract! So far we've received many abstracts but we are hoping for more! Don't miss the deadline of April 20th. If you hesitate to share an abstract with us now, it will be too late. Please send it to us now!

All information about the call for abstracts and submission is available following this link: <https://www.ifdm2020.org/call-for-abstracts>

IFDM 2020: registration

Some participants have already purchased their ticket. Good for them! We still have some of the 100 early bird price tickets available. When all of them will be sold, Disability Managers will still be able to enjoy a 15% discount on the regular price (only for CRTWCs and CDMPs).

All information about the registration is available following this link: <https://www.ifdm2020.org/registration>

What about the COVID-19 situation?

We are following closely the evolution of the COVID-19 pandemic day by day. At this time, the congress will take place as planned. We would notify you if any change occurs.

Thank you for your involvement.
